

Housing and Downtown Site Survey Now Available!

Take our survey between November 5th and December 10th to weigh in on the future of housing in Clayton. We want to hear your perspective on housing needs and challenges in our community.

Your ideas could shape the future of Clayton, as the City prepares a plan to identify sites that could accommodate new housing at all income levels over the next eight years. This plan is known as the Housing Element and is a required part of the City's General Plan.

This survey is one of many opportunities for you to provide input on the Housing Element Update. This survey also seeks community input on a City-owned Downtown Site and invites you to submit photos of what you would like to see at that location. Take or find a photo of what you would like to see at the Downtown Site to help us understand your vision for Clayton's Historic Town Center.
